Team member

Job title: Specialist Medicines Information Pharmacist, John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford

Olivia is currently working as a Specialist Medicines Information Pharmacist at the Medicines Information Department in the John Radcliffe Hospital.

She has recently graduated with an MSc in Genomic Medicine from The University of Oxford. Olivia has a particular interest in pharmacogenomics and personalised medicine and was lucky enough to have been supported in completing her studies with a scholarship from the Centre for Personalised Medicine.

Olivia's interest in the wider world of pharmacy started during her role as a National Representative for the British Pharmaceutical Students Association. From this, Olivia went on to complete two executive mandates as Western Area Coordinator and Graduate Officer. In her spare time, Olivia acts as Co-President for the UK's oldest Acapella group, the Oxford Alternatives.
